7. FEEDBACK FROM PARTICIPANTS

On December 9, 2023, the city of Radom in Poland witnessed a significant educational event – the Multiplier Event as part of the ELENE (Elders Learning English for Europe) project. It was hosted by INBIE - Fundacja Instytut Badań i Innowacji w Edukacji, the event aimed to showcase the outcomes and impact of the project, focusing on enhancing language skills and digital literacy among seniors.

75 participants of the event agreed that the multiplier event was implemented successfully and that the content was relevant to their jobs. The event objectives were clear and the event gave them sufficient practice/feedback. This is because the facilitator[s] were well prepared, as they have been from the beginning of the project implementing all activities.
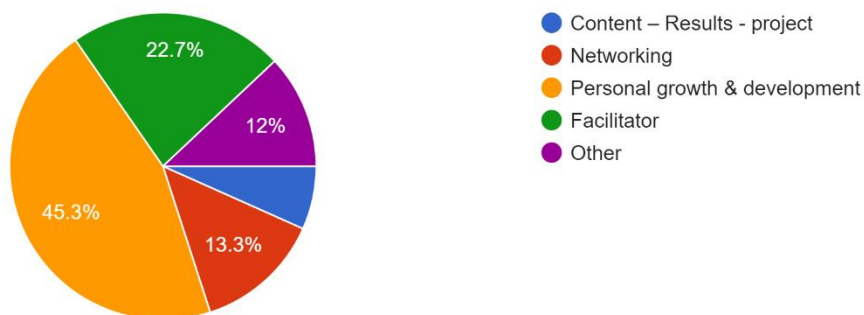

The ELENE Multiplier Event in Radom, Poland, successfully achieved its goals of showcasing the project's outcomes and encouraging discourse on the importance of digital and language skills for seniors. The event not only served as a knowledge-sharing platform but also highlighted the collaborative efforts of INBIE and its partners in fostering innovative approaches to elder education.

Noteworthy were the thoughtful event souvenirs - pens adorned with the project, European Commission, and hosting organization logos. Participants also received USB drives and QR code stickers from the project's mobile application.

Below we can find the answers to the questionnaire passed to the multiplier event participants:

Conclusion:

The workshop / Round table discussion encouraged participation and active learning. The moderator Luis Ochoa encouraged feedback between the speakers and participants. Participants contributed ideas and solutions to the different practical activities that were implemented. Teamwork was encouraged at all times and the active participation of all attendees, so that it served as a form of knowledge about the intellectual products of the ELENE project and for the exchange of opinions. Attendees receive pen drives and QR codes with all necessary material for a better understanding of the products presented and the objectives of the activity.

A suitable place was set up for the event, which had the necessary technical means for its development (WIFI, computer, projector, screen). INBIE were in charge of implementing social inclusion measures, such as facilitating accessibility for people with physical disabilities, ensuring gender equity, using non-violent communication and inclusive language and so on.

Regarding sustainability measures, to reduce the impact on the environment, the participants received a USB with the materials of the project (R1 & R2) as well as an eco-friendly cardboard pen and notebook and recycled paper to take notes.

INBIE was responsible for carrying out the adequate dissemination of the activity carried out, both through the use of social networks and other channels of communication. Once the event was over, each attendee was awarded the corresponding accreditation that served as proof of attendance. All attendees filled out the attendance sheet.

A satisfaction survey was prepared to find out the opinions of the participants on different aspects (quality of the exhibitions, facilities, materials delivered, opinions on intellectual products, etc.).

INBIE prepared this report with the objectives, program, attendees and conclusions based on the interventions of the attendees and the surveys of satisfaction, with photographs and a copy of the documentation and materials provided (Book, manual, brochures, poster, roll-up) that is hosted in the online repository and webpage of the project.
